But don't just take our word for it, here is what our dancers have to say:

What I enjoy/satisfied with most at Salsa Intocable Dance Company?

When I started to learn Salsa, I had a very simple goal in mind – to learn this beautiful art and dance it socially. As time went by, my love for Salsa grew exponentially. To dance it well was not enough for me. I wanted to be a better dancer on the social dance floor. The classes I was taking provided me a lot of good solid foundation of the basic steps of Salsa but I felt I was in a plateau in terms of moving to the next level.

I took the initiative to shop around for a dance company that can train me hard and push me to a higher level of dance. Since Brent Jennings became one of my first teachers in Salsa, I was so impressed with his technical ability as a dancer. He is a very likable teacher with a lot of patience and openness in his teachings. Since he joined Salsa Intocable, I felt he had the utmost respect and belief of the talents of Laura Luu. That was the tipping point when I decided to join SIDC. Apart from the reputation it had for several years of being very technical savvy in terms of teaching methodology, Laura exemplifies excellence. We do not only learn choreography, but the technique to every move is her number one priority. Get the technique down and the rest will follow.....

After a year of training with SIDC, I never thought it will come to the day that I will perform on stage, never in my wildest dreams that the thought crossed my mind. My mindset when I first began training was to improve my leading skills so I can be a better social dancer. Thanks to the relentless persistence of Laura, that distant possibility became a reality. Performing on stage really helped me become a more technical dancer in terms of musicality, speed and precision. Although, social dancing will always be my first love, performing on stage has taught me a different dimension of the dance. I am very happy that I was given this opportunity as a dancer.

Lastly, I cannot express enough my satisfaction as a member of this dance company. SIDC has pushed me to achieve the impossible. I feel at home with SIDC, there is a strong camaraderie among members, a sense of belonging like family, quality teachers that are always open and willing to lend support and inspiration.

I think SIDC stands out from the rest because the company is “technique driven” rather than just learning moves and choreography. Laura embodies professionalism and imparts the belief that raw talent is useless unless we harness it with a lot dedication, hard work, positive attitude, openness to learn and humility. That struck a cord in my mind. If we want to set goals and achieve, we need to focus on what is most important and that is CHARACTER and ATTITUDE more than TALENT itself. Character and Attitude will bring you places you’ve never been, do things beyond your realm and achieve the impossible. “It’s not your aptitude but your attitude that determines your latitude.” SIDC embodies all of these fine points that I was searching for in a team.
